9/11 Never Forget Mobile Exhibit Comes to Jefferson County October 4-6

Area residents of all ages are invited to touch the tragedy and heroism surrounding the unforgettable events of the 15th anniversary of the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attack in New York City, as the Jefferson College Cultural Events and Community Outreach committee and the Arnold Tourism Commission host a special “9/11 Never Forget” mobile exhibit October 4-6.

The inspirational travelling display is dedicated to the 414 New York firefighters and police who sacrificed their lives responding to terrorists’ assaults on the World Trade Center’s Twin Towers. In total, 2,606 people died at the towers in addition to nearly 400 more on the hijacked planes and at the Pentagon.

The one-of-a-kind exhibit is a high-tech, 53-foot tractor-trailer that unfolds into a 1,000-square-foot exhibit floor. In it are a variety of features and artifacts for interactive education of the historic day, including steel beams from the towers, documentary videos, and recordings of first-responder radio transmissions. Visitors will be guided by four FDNY firefighters who responded to the towers on 9/11.

9/11 Never Forget Mobile Exhibit Schedule

FREE ADMISSION

October 3 – Exhibit Escort Along Hwy 141 (Bowles Ave. to Astra Way)
October 4 – Opening Ceremony at 8 a.m.
Exhibit open from 9 a.m.-7 p.m.
October 5 – Exhibit open from 9 a.m.-7 p.m.
October 6 – Exhibit open from 9 a.m.-7 p.m.

This will be the first time that the “9/11 Never Forget” exhibit has been in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

It will arrive on Monday, October 3, escorted by area police, fire, EMT/EMS first-response agencies, and motorcyclists along Highway 141 to Jefferson College Arnold. Those participating in the escort will gather around 2 p.m. at Bowles Avenue and continue along the route through Gravois Bluffs, Springdale, and Astra Way. Call the Arnold Chamber of Commerce at 636-296-1910 or the Fenton Chamber of Commerce at 636-717-0200 for more details.
There is no admission fee to view the exhibit. The Tunnel to Towers Foundation, however, will accept help in its cause to keep that heroism alive by housing badly wounded soldiers and orphaned children.

The Siller family started the Stephen Siller Tunnel to Towers Foundation to honor the memory of their brother, a New York City firefighter who lost his life in connection with the 9-11 attack. He was one of the 343 firefighters who died trying to rescue occupants of the towers. Off duty when the attacks began, he donned his heavy gear and, with traffic blocked, ran three miles from the Brooklyn Battery Tunnel to the Twin Towers, where he perished when they collapsed. The “9/11 Never Forget” exhibit was subsequently created in 2013 as a tribute to all whose lives were lost that tragic day.

People can visit www.jeffco.edu/911neverforget to request a school tour, register to ride in the arrival escort, or make a donation.

JCGA and Jefferson College to Host Candidate Forums Oct. 6 and 11

Area residents will get the chance to hear from those running for office as Jefferson College and the Jefferson County Growth Association host two upcoming forums involving candidates in county, state, and national races.

The public service events will be held at on Thursday, October 6, and Tuesday, October 11, both at 7 p.m. in the Arts and Sciences I Building, Room 119, on the Hillsboro campus. College President Dr. Raymond Cummiskey will be the moderator during each forum.

Both events are open to everyone. Parking is free. The College and JCGA encourage community members to attend the candidate forums in order to meet current and prospective officeolders and learn about their positions regarding important issues, while providing an opportunity for information sharing and public discourse.

Candidates for county offices will be the focus on October 6. State and federal office candidates will be highlighted on October 11.

In light of the significant number of races in the November General Election, the forums are designed to allow candidates to present their respective viewpoints to the community. All Democratic and Republican candidates have been invited to participate. County candidates will each discuss what they will do for the County and the community; state and national candidates will be given a similar opportunity to speak.

While no questions will be taken during the event, candidates for both contested and uncontested races have been asked to stay after the forum to talk with audience members.

Both forums will be broadcast live on KJFF radio (AM 1400) and rebroadcast via the Jefferson College website (www.jeffco.edu), JCTV (Charter Cable Jefferson County channel 989), and Vimeo (keyword Jefferson College).

AutoZone Partners with College to Provide Automotive Technician Training

Jefferson College and AutoZone recently teamed up to provide automotive aftermarket training. Over 25 technicians from throughout the region interested in sharpening their skills for Honda and Toyota charging systems attended the training session. William (Bill) Cochran, a double master ASE technician from Florida who trains across the nation, shared his knowledge for over three hours with Jefferson College students and area professional technicians.

The experience was one of several training and professional development opportunities that the College has coordinated as a leader in the Automotive Technology field.
Jefferson College participated in the annual Adult Education and Family Literacy Week September 26-October 1 in an effort to remind everyone that reading, writing, and basic math remain an elusive target for 36 million adults nationwide.

According to the National Center for Educational Statistics, about six percent of Jefferson County residents 16 years of age or older lack basic literacy skills.

Jefferson College is part of a national network of organizations that are working to end the adult literacy crisis. ProLiteracy, the leading membership organization advancing the cause of adult literacy and basic education in the nation, provides more than 1,100 community-based literacy organizations, including Jefferson College, with tools to help educate adult learners and help them meet the demands of today’s workforce.

“Literacy helps families be healthier and safer and provides people sustainable opportunities to support themselves through work, contributing ultimately to the economic growth of our region and our country,” said Jefferson College President Dr. Raymond Cummiskey.

“Low literacy costs the nation more than $200 billion dollars each year in lost productivity, as well as an additional one to $2 billion in health and safety issues,” said Kevin Morgan, president and CEO of ProLiteracy. “Every dollar spent on adult literacy and education provides returns to the country through higher employment, added tax revenues, reduced welfare payments, and less crime.”

The Missouri Adult Education and Literacy (AEL) Program provides assistance that helps individuals get the basic skills they need to be productive workers, family members, and citizens. It emphasizes basic skills such as reading, writing, math, English language competency, and problem-solving.

Jefferson College offers Adult Education Literacy/HSE classes during the day and evening at its main campus in Hillsboro, at Jefferson College Arnold, and at the Jefferson County Library Northwest Branch in High Ridge. When a person is ready to begin class, they will meet with an instructor to design a personalized plan of study to help the student reach his/her goals.

There is no cost to participate as funds for the program are provided through the federal Adult Education Act. Individuals may enroll for AEL/HSE classes at any time, but must complete a mandatory three-day orientation before beginning classes.

“Jefferson College has a longstanding commitment to providing quality adult education and literacy services to the community and is committed to student HSE/HiSet attainment and transitioning students to post-secondary education,” said Director of Learning Services Betty Linneman.

For more information about free Adult Education and Literacy classes, call (636) 481-3437 or visit www.jeffco.edu/AEL.

College and Foundation Extend Resources to Support Displaced ITT Students in Nursing and Other Programs

With the recent closure of ITT, Jefferson College continues to explore degree options and other avenues to help address the financial and academic burden facing former students.

For those enrolled in ITT’s Nursing program, the Missouri State Board of Nursing called a special meeting and subsequently approved Jefferson College to provide a teach out plan for about 20 displaced students who were on track to graduate this November.

The Jefferson College Foundation has also agreed to cover the cost of CLEP (College-Level Examination Program) test fees as a means to ease the academic and financial hurdles that many ITT students now face, while minimizing the loss of credits toward an associate degree or certificate.

“These actions go to show how the Board of Directors for the College Foundation wants to step up and provide meaningful support to ITT students, surrounded by a message of hope, perseverance and determination,” said Jefferson College Executive Director of Development Patti Christen.

Jefferson College academic and student services staff are working to establish alternative pathways for similar ITT programs, as current and prospective students explore higher education options beyond those available at ITT. The College has already begun helping displaced ITT students on a one-on-one basis to develop personalized education plans in attempt to align their coursework with possible options such as credit for prior learning.

Any student impacted by the closure can speak to an enrollment specialist by calling the Jefferson College ITT Student Help Hotline at (636) 481-3209 or 797-3000, ext. 3209.
