"PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE"

Directed by Joe Wilson
Jefferson College Fine Arts Theater

September 30, October 1 and 2, 1993, 8 P.M.

By Neil Simon

"PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE"

New York City, 1935

Two middle-aged women have been given a baby to care for by its parents after the baby's mother becomes insane. One of the women, an old college friend of the baby's father, accepts the responsibility. However, she finds the baby more than she can handle and tries to get rid of him at a nearby station, believing it to be a final solution.

Jefferson College Fine Arts Theater

1200 East College Boulevard

906-733-9600

Tickets:

- Matinee: $3
- Evening: $5
- Student: $1

Parking:

- General Parking: $3
- Jefferson College Parking: Free

Dine:

- Campus Dining Hall: $6
- Jefferson Commons: $5

Coming Events:

- "Beehive, " Nov. 4, 8:00 P.M.
- "The Glass Menagerie," Nov. 11, 8:00 P.M.
- "The Importance of Being Earnest," Nov. 18, 8:00 P.M.
- "A Raisin in the Sun," Nov. 25, 8:00 P.M.

For more information, please contact the Fine Arts Department at 906-733-9600.
Produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

Special Thanks to Stephen Gilmore

Jeff Ketchcaster
Production Assistants: Rick Lowry
Box Office: Jane Brook
Wes Robertson
Jim Nolte, Nick Pilcher, Todd Pfeifer
Brown, Pat Kidd, Renee Vondenharr

Production Crew

Stage Manager: Frank Finley
Technical Director: Wes Robertson
Scenic Designers: 8
Director: Joe Wilson

Afternoon

ACT I: Scene 1: Six weeks later, mid-December late
ACT II: Scene 2: Two weeks later, mid-afternoon
ACT II: Scene 1: Six weeks later

Intermission - 10 minutes

ACT I, Scene 1: Late afternoon, a few days later
ACT I, Scene 1: A hot summer morning - 2:30 a.m.

Mel and Edna Edison's 14th floor apartment

By Neil Simon
A Comedy in Two Acts

PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE