Broadway and Beyond Leaders

Emily Robinson recently received her Master of Arts in Theatre Education from Fontbonne University. This year she will be the Drama Teacher/Director for DeSoto High School. Last year, she served as teacher of drama and English at St. Pius. She also just moved to Arnold! Emily has directed many, many shows—most recently a modern adaptation of Romeo and Juliet at Pius. She also loves performing and has been in numerous plays and musicals! Emily would like to thank Angie for being such a wonderful friend. She would also like to thank Jane Sullivan for the amazing opportunity to work with such talented young people!

Angela Shultz is proud that her first stage experiences were here at Jefferson College in their children's musicals. She has gone on to perform in NYC, Houston and St. Louis. She recently wrote book and lyrics for an original musical, In Her Place. Angie holds a Bachelor's in Voice from MBU and a Master's in Theatre Education from Fontbonne. She teaches private voice in her own studio and for STAGES. You can catch her next in the Starlight Chorus (as Miss Hannigan) at Jeffco later this month. Thanks to our incredible students and their parents. Thanks also to Mom and Dad who carted me off to Jeffco in my early years, Emily who is generally amazing and Jane Sullivan—"my mentor and friend!"
