Verbal Judo teaches the skills necessary to remain centered and focused during any verbal circumstance. This training focuses on the following Five Universal Truths:

1. All cultures want to be treated with dignity and respect.
2. All people would rather be asked than told what to do.
3. All people want to know why they are asked or told to do something.
4. All people would rather have options than threats.
5. All people want a second chance to make matters right.

The goal of law enforcement is to generate voluntary compliance. Learn how to effectively and efficiently use your words to professionally deescalate a situation.
