Elizabeth Moon
against
Isaac Moon

Plaintiff states that she was married to the defendant on the eight day of November 1856 and she and said Moon lived together as man and wife ~~that~~ until the 24th or 25th day of June last when he required her to leave his house and ^{she} went to her brother in law's John Stinson where she has resided to the present time. During all the time that she ~~resided~~ lived with her said husband she conducted herself with propriety and in all things performed her duties as a faithful and loving wife. But the said defendant although he well knew her devotedness to him and that she had in ~~all~~ all things performed her whole duty to him offered and continued to offer such indignities to her person as to render her condition intolerable. She therefore begs for a divorce from the hands of matrimony heretofore contracted with the said defendant, and that her maiden name Elizabeth Craig may be restored to her.

Plaintiff further states that she ~~has~~ is ~~in~~ ^{the} ~~possession~~ ^{share} of her father S B Craig is entitled to a share of the proceeds of her father's land which was sold at the last October Term of the Washington Circuit Court and also to a share of the slaves belonging to said estate for the sale of which for the purposes of disbursement an order of said court was made at the last term of said Court

Plaintiff prays that the said defendant may be enjoined and restrained by the order of the court from interfering with the said proceeds of the land or with said slaves or the proceeds thereof after the same shall be sold or in any manner selling or disposing of any supposed interest therein that he may have therein.

Plaintiff further states that she has an infant the child of the said defendant now about three months old and that she received none of his property with when she separated from him but he permitted her to take what property she brought to his house. That under these circumstances she prays that the court would grant her alimony ^{and that she be permitted to retain said infant} equivalent to the support of her child, and for such other and further relief as her case shall warrant and as is

Said Moore,

Plaintiff States that she was married to the defendant on the Sixth day of November 1856. and she and said Moore lived together as Man and Wife until the 24th or 25th day of June last, when he required her to leave his house, and she went to her brother in laws John Alderson where she has resided to the present time, During all the time that she lived with her said husband, she conducted herself with propriety, and in all things performed her duties as a faithful and loving wife, But the said defendant, although he well knew her devotedness to him and that she had in all things performed her whole duty to him offered and continued to offer her such indignities to her as to render her condition intolerable, she therefore prays for a divorce from the bonds of matrimony heretofore contracted with the said defendant, and that her Maiden name of Elizabeth Craig may be restored to her.

Plaintiff further States that she as heir of her father, S. B. Craig, is entitled to a share of the proceeds of her fathers land which was sold at the last October Term of the Washington Circuit Court, and also to a share of the Slaves belonging to said estate, for the sale of which for the purposes of distribution, an order of said Court was made at the last term of said Court.

Plaintiff prays that the said defendants may be enjoined and restrained by the order of this Court from intermeddling with the said proceeds of the land or with said Slaves, or the proceeds thereof after the same shall be sold, or in any manner selling or disposing of any supposed interests that he may have therein.

Plaintiff further states that she has an infant, the child of the said defendants now about three months old and that she received none of his property when she separated from him; but he permitted her to take what property she brought to his house. That under these circumstances she prays that the Court would grant her Alimony equivalent to the support of her child, and that she be permitted to retain said infant and for such other and further relief as her case shall warrant and as.
