June Term 1861

Mason Freipell
Plaintiff against

John B Fallon &
William C Fallon
Defendants

Plaintiff states that the defendants are indebted to him in the sum of four hundred and sixty two dollars and twenty seven cents, it being the balance due him for lumber furnished by plaintiff to them at their request between June 22^d and August 26th 1860 as by a bill of items herewith filed which is a true statement of the account upon which all the credits to which the defendants are entitled are entered.

Plaintiff further states that the money became due by agreement of the defendants after the expiration of ninety days from the time of delivery as shown by the bill of items. Plaintiff therefore demands judgment for his debt with interest thereon from the first day of November 1860 with costs.

Marion Grinnell, Plffs
Against
John and William O'Fallon, Defendants

In Sup. Court Court
Jan. Term 1863

Now at this day comes John O'Fallon Jr one of said defendants and for answer to Plaintiffs petition denies that he owes Plaintiff the sum of four hundred and sixty-two $\frac{27}{100}$ dollars balance due for lumber furnished defendants by Plaintiff, between June 22nd and August 26th 1862, or any other sum for any thing or at any time whatever. Defendant John O'Fallon Jr. denies that he owes Plaintiff any sum of money whatever upon agreement or otherwise, and denies Plaintiff's ^{right} to a judgment against this defendant. Defendant therefore asks to be discharged with his proper costs.
